BOARD ADJOURNS THIS MORNING

Commissioners Dismiss Objections
Filed by Owen L. Carr Against New Brick Streets.

FILING TIME LIMIT EXPIRES

Will Meet Tomorrow to Levy Tax to Build and Repair Free Gravel Roads.

The county commissioners met for a short time this morning and allowed claims and attended to other minor business which came up. They adjourned until tomorrow morning when they will again take up the business of this month's meeting.

The only important thing done by the commissioners yesterday was the dismissal of the objection of Owen L. Carr to the conditions of a portion of the brick streets laid by the Adams Construction Company of Zanesville, Ohio. Mr. Carr filed an objection before the commissioners Monday afternoon, requesting that it not be paid in full for the work until the streets were built according to the contract and until the dirt had been cleaned from under the new bridge erected in East Second street over the race by the company, so that as great a flow of water could be had as before.

John H. Kiplinger appeared for the Adams Construction Company and filed a motion asking for the dismissal of the Carr objections on the theory that the statutes provide that any objections to the condition of the streets should have been filed within ten days after the streets were opened up. The commissioners sustained the motion of the company and dismissed the objections. The company informed the commissioners, however, that it would clean the dirt out from under the new bridge so that the flow of water would not be hindered. The company was paid in full as any taxpayer, according to attorneys, could not compel it to make any changes since the time limit for filing objections had expired.

The commissioners will meet tomorrow to make tax levies. They will make a levy to pay for the repair of free gravel roads and also they will levy a tax for bonds to build free gravel roads.

Yesterday the county commissioners continued the petitions filed by William Leisure, Frank Moore and Isaac Webb and others for the improvement of highways in Posey, Richland, and Rushville townships, respectively, until October second. This action was necessary in order to give the viewers more time in which to make their reports.

The board approved the bond, filed by Henry Beckner as road supervisor, in the sum of five thousand dollars, with A. L. Gary as surety.

The commissioners continued the petition of Basil Seward, filed before them Monday, for a license to operate a seventh saloon in Rushville until the regular October meeting. The petitioner holds that the population has increased enough since the last census to allow the opening of another saloon in Rushville with the ratio remaining one saloon for the first five hundred inhabitants and one for every one thousand thereafter.

JOKER!

(Greenfield Reporter.)

James A. Swain, of Brandywine township enjoys a good joke. He was over in Rush county a few days ago and was telling how dry it had been in Hancock county this summer, when a joker said: "That's nothing compared with how dry it was in Rush county three years ago. It was so dry that we had to soak our cows to make them hold slop."

THAT FOOLISH ROBBER

Attempts to Break Into Printer's
Home For Wealth.

The idea of a thief using such judgment--attempting to break into a printer's house. But such a robber, who should be ruled out of the game by his fellow-thieves, was foolhardy enough to try to rob John Greenawalt, a Daily Republican printer. Mr. Greenawalt's daughter heard a noise and screamed and the intruder was frightened away before he had been successful in entering the house. He was seen by neighbors.

RUSH COUNTY MEN MAY WIN AWARDS

Cass Johnson and John F. Boyd Have Long List of Entries at State Fair This Week.

CATTLE AND HORSE SHOWS

Two Rush county men are contenders for premiums at the State fair which is being held near Indianapolis this week. Cass Johnson, living a few miles west of the city, has his string of fancy driving horses there and John F. Boyd, proprietor of the Riverside stock farm in Jersey City has his whole herd of well-bred Jerseys there for the cattle show.

Cass Johnson showed in the runabout class at the horse show in the State fair coliseum last night, but did not get a premium due to the fact that his entry was not exactly suited for that class. He will show in the roadster class tonight and there is every reason to believe, according to Rushville attendants at the fair, that he will take away some of the awards.

Mr. Boyd has entries in all of the various classes for Jerseys. Due to the fact that he has both a Grand Champion milch cow and a Grand Champion bull in his herd, he is conceded many of the awards before the show starts.

LOCAL MEN ARE GIVEN OFFICES

William Gordon is Elected President
and J. C. Hume, Vice-President, at Regimental Reunion.

FEW IN INDIANAPOLIS TODAY

Two reunions of veterans of the civil war were held yesterday in Indianapolis, while four others were scheduled to be held today. The Sixty-eighth Indiana Volunteer Regiment met in the State House yesterday and the Sixteenth met in the Marion county circuit court room. The largest reunion today probably was that of the "Persimmon Brigade," composed of the One Hundred and Fifteenth and One Hundred and Eighteenth Regiments, inclusive. The Thirteenth and Twenty-first Regiments met in the court house today, and the One Hundred and Twenty-third convened in the State house. Rush county was represented at practically all of the reunions.

The Sixty-eighth yesterday voted to hold the next reunion in Greensburg, August 19, 1912. The following officers were elected: President, William Gordon, Rushville; vice-president, J. C. Hume, New Salem; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Isabel White, Greensburg. Forty attended the meeting.

MAY INSTALL AN INTERURBAN

Pennsylvania is Considering Such a Plan to Handle Passenger Traffic on Branches.

STORY FROM SHELBYVILLE

Local Agent Does Not Believe Improvement Will be Made For Some Time.

The story emanates from Shelbyville that this division of the Pennsylvania may be converted into an interurban line for passenger service, but that the freight service will still be continued. The Shelbyville papers state that the road has considered such a change for some time and that it will probably be made in several years. Jesse Higgins, the local Pennsylvania agent, says that the road has been considering such a thing for some time, but that he does not think it will take place for several years to come. The Shelbyville Republican says of the proposed improvement:

There are very strong indications that Rushville, in the near future, will have what will be equal to another interurban road. To people who observe such conditions it has been apparent for some time that the Pennsylvania railroad was getting ready to install a new passenger service on a number of its branch lines. During the past two or three years this company has been expending vast sums of money on there "feeders," ostensibly for the purpose of facilitating their freight business.

JESSE ABELS PASSED AWAY

Died This Morning at His Home Near Orange.

Jesse Abels, 45 years old, died this morning at 8:30 o'clock at the home of William Beaver, near Orange, after an illness of two weeks. Death was caused by peritonitis. Mr. Abels had made his home for the past eight years with Mr. and Mrs. Beaver and was employed there on a farm. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary Jordan of Alexandria, Ind. The funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Burial will take place at the north cemetery in Orange.

Daffydil Doings Down In Dippy Dell

The sound of a dreadful scream came through the window of Demmer's pool room. It listened like Prof. Brown might be shaving a hair-lip man or cutting a bald-headed man's hair. Anyway, the noise was terrible. The hangers-on and the pool experts rushed to the door waiting for their cue to enter the thrilling melodrama that was about to be enacted. What did they see? Kitty Lushel was trying to drive the Weeks Fresh Meat and Provision Company's blind horse through an I. & C. car, but the horse couldn't see it that way. Kitty insisted that the old white pony not put the brakes on. There was nothing doing on the

NOT SURE ABOUT COMING BACK

James E. Watson Attends Richmond
Chautauqua and Talks Politics
to His Many Friends.

THERE'S NOTHING IN POLITICS

Former Congressman Declares he Would Decline if Nominated
at This Time.

James E. Watson, former representative of the Sixth district in congress, attended the Chautauqua Sunday afternoon, and after the speaker had delivered his address inside the tent, Watson entertained his friends on the outside, says the Richmond Item. His presence had no political significance, other than this that it gave him opportunity to express himself on the general political situation in the Sixth district and in the nation. Watson said: "Yes, I saw the report sent out from New Castle requesting me to be the banner carrier of the Republican party in the next election, and that I should come out as candidate for congressional representative. It is true that I have received several hundred letters and telegrams from voters of the district urging me to make the race and trying to convince me that I am the only Moses who can lead the Republican party to the promised land of victory in the Sixth. I informed one and all of them that I appreciated the confidence they placed in me, but that I had no desire to indulge in the political game. I have learned that there is nothing in it. I am in something more profitable than politics."

Asked whether he thought that he could come back, Watson replied: "I am as strong in the district as I was at any time in my active political career, excepting Wayne county, of course. And I was strong here too, until the last time, when a few good Republicans forgot politics and started war against me. I am still strong enough in Wayne county, however, to come back with a good following." Watson was not so sure about not coming back for a candidate when he saw that the crowd about him seemed inclined to encourage such a step. "At this time," he said, "I would not announce my candidacy. If a convention were held at this time and I were re-nominated, I would appear on the floor and decline with thanks."

Watson believes that President Taft is the logical candidate to head the Republican ticket next year. Although he and many other leaders did not agree with Taft in many things, they would stand by him if nominated. Taft injured his chances for reelection, according to Watson, by his Hamilton speech. There are other men who could be nominated, but as there is still plenty of time until the election, there is no need to worry. "And anyway," said "Our Jim," "I am here to greet old friends and not to talk politics."

MILROY FIRM ASKS $1000 DAMAGES

Enterprise Milling Company Files
Suit Against C. C. C. & St. L.
Railway Company.

DELAY IN SHIPMENT IS CAUSE

The Enterprise Milling Company of Milroy, through their attorneys, Watson, Tittsworth & Green, has filed a damage suit in the circuit court against the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Company, demanding $1,000. The complaint states that during the month of December, 1909, the plaintiff purchased of grain dealers in East St. Louis and Chicago 13,000 bushels of wheat to be shipped to Milroy as ordered. It is alleged that the defendant carelessly and negligently failed to ship and transport cars to their destination in a reasonable time and consumed from 8 to 25 days in making the shipment. By this delay the mill was forced to close for 15 days and lost consumers, who cancelled their orders because the plaintiff could not supply their demands. Because of this loss and delay they ask $1,000 damages.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS TO BE RENOVATED

House Will be Thoroughly Disinfected
Friday, Preparatory to Opening of School Monday.

STATE BOARD ISSUES ORDERS

On Friday of this week the public school buildings of the city will be renovated and disinfected pursuant to orders from the State Board of Health, according to an announcement of Prof. J. H. Scholl yesterday. The school houses in the city will be in perfect order for the opening of school Monday.

There is a liability of school officials being fined if they do not comply with the law in this regard. Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the State Board of Health yesterday made preparations to send out special circulars to health officers of the State, informing them that all the rules and laws regulating the cleaning out and disinfection of all school houses before the opening of the fall term, must be enforced. The fine for non-compliance with the law is from $10 to $100. The State board already has received several letters from women teachers of the State protesting against the failure of trustees to comply with the law. The manual of instructions for school authorities and school physicians, issued jointly by the State Board of Health, came from the printer yesterday.

HENRY MORRIS SEES KILLING

Colored Porter at I. & C. Station Views Fatal Cutting Fray in Indianapolis About Midnight.

ONE NEGRO KILLS ANOTHER

Severs His Jugular Vein With Razor
After Cutting Deep Gash in His Cheek.

Henry Morris saw a killing in Indianapolis last night, of that he is certain. He had bad dreams all the rest of the night. He saw a colored man slash another colored man three times with a razor. The last slash was sufficient to put out the victim's light and he was carried away to the city morgue. Henry recited the details of the murder while riding home on the last I. & C. car from Indianapolis last night. He was not acquainted with either one of the belligerents.

Henry described the murder in a very characteristic manner. "I was standing along there on Indiana avenue 'tendin' to my own business, when I heard an awful row up the street a little ways. My, but there was some noise. Of course, I was just as curious as any the rest o' them niggers and I went up to see what was doin'."

"I got there just in time for the second slash. That time the ole boy was cut right across the right cheek and that razor must o' been some sharp too, because it jist laid the flesh back. That wasn't enough for the fellow with the razor, so he jist cuts in again and goes after the fellow."

"At the next swipe with that nigger weapon he caught that poor unfortunate fellow right in the neck and that put the finishin' touches on him. Say, if that didn't sever his jugular vein, I miss my guess. He fell back on the sidewalk all bloody and a' groanin'. Then I thought it was about time for me to beat it. No, that was no place for me. It was about ear time anyway."

"I don't know how the trouble ever started. And I never did stop to find out either. I thought that fellow might a' been kind a crazy or something like that, and in that case, it was no position for a nervous man to be in. And as I said, it was about ear time. The ole colored 'bull' went right up the stairs after that muderer. I suppose he got him. I didn't stay to see that either."

MILROY TO SEND BIG DELEGATION

Odd Fellows Employ Brass Bands to Accompany Them to Meeting of Sovereign Grand Lodge.

The Milroy Lodge-I. O. O. F. has obtained the services of the Andersonville and Laurel brass bands to play and go with them to Indianapolis Wednesday, September 20, that being the occasion of the the "Biggest Ever" parade that will ever be seen in Indianapolis, says the Milroy Press. One hundred thousand men will be in the parade coming from every State in the Union and Canada. A special train has been chartered for Rush county. Starting at Milroy it will take on the passengers at Rushville and Carthage. This train is exclusive for Rush county. The train will leave Milroy at noon and returning the train will leave Indianapolis that night.

RHEUMATISM

Yields Readily to Simple Remedy—
Well-Known American Chemist
Discovers Process for Making Sulphur Soluble.

For centuries it was known to the great men of medical science that if Nature has provided a certain, yet simple remedy for Rheumatism, Gout and Blood Disease, the hope of those so afflicted lay in the use of sulphur.

And now Nature has given up her secret. A great chemist has succeeded in making sulphur as soluble as sugar or salt. Heretofore sulphur could be and was taken with great benefit even though insoluble, but now it can be absorbed directly into the blood and thus accomplish wonderfully curative results. SULFOSOL is the name of this new vitalizer of the blood, this expeller of uric acid and other blood taints and conqueror of Rheumatism and Gout. Get it of your nearest druggist or write to the Sulfosol Company, 72 Trinity Place, New York, for a free book on Rheumatism and Blood Disease and the successful use of Sulfosol in their treatment.

THE EVIDENCE IS NOW ALL IN

Argument Alone Remains Before Jury Gets Beattie Case.

REBUTTED PRISONER'S STORY

Prosecution's Final Witnesses Eroke Down Material Points in the Testimony of Young Virginian on Trial on Charge of Wife Murder—Lawyers Today Are Arguing Instructions Before Judge Watson.

Richmond, Va., September 6.—All evidence in the case for and against Henry Beattie, Jr., is now in. Tomorrow the lawyers will begin the summing up, and before the adjournment of court on that day the jury will have retired to determine the issue of life or death.

Today there is no court session at Chesterfield crossroads. Instead the lawyers for the commonwealth and the defense have met with Judge Watson in the chambers of the supreme court in this city to argue the matter of the judge's charge to the jury. Under the Virginia practice, before the court charges the jury in a capital case both sides are given a chance to urge upon him certain clauses in his instructions, the argument in no sense being binding upon the court, but merely advisory.

The completion of testimony came at 6:30 o'clock last evening, when Henry Owen, a brother of the woman who was murdered, the last witness for the prosecution in rebuttal, was on the stand. After he had denied the story of Henry Beattie, that to the end his wife and he had never exchanged a cross word, Prosecutor Wendenburg announced that the prosecution rested its rebuttal. The defense had no rebuttal to make.

The final day in the prosecution's effort to bring Henry Beattie to punishment for the crime of wife murder was quite the most disastrous of all that had passed over his head. No great sensation was sprung, but bit by bit the story that the prisoner had himself told on the stand and that favorable witnesses had sought to substantiate for him was torn down by an overwhelming weight of evidence in rebuttal. The final question that had been propounded to Beattie remains unanswered and above all other questions at issue the most fraught with significance.

"How did the gun bought by Paul Beattie three days before the murder happen to be in the hands of the man who shot your wife, and how do you account for the fact that in every detail of the shooting it always was the gun bought by Paul Beattie that is in evidence?" was the last question that Wendenburg shot at Henry Beattie before he left the stand.

"I cannot account for that," was Beattie's answer; nor did his counsel account for it except to put on witnesses to show that Paul Beattie's reputation for truth and veracity is bad.

By constant iteration Beattie sought to establish the fact both in his direct and cross-examination that on the Thursday night when Paul says Henry met him with his machine and requested him to buy a second-hand shotgun, he had not seen his cousin Paul and did not go to the several places where Paul in his evidence had said they went. Henry Beattie made a flat and positive denial of his cousin's story in this respect. The prosecutor placed on the stand a long string of witnesses to disprove every step in the denial of the prisoner, people who had seen the two young men together on the night in question. The prisoner's denial was overwhelmed.

Another point of attack was the point established by the defense that on the Sunday morning before the murder, at the time when, according to Paul's story, the shotgun was in the hands of Henry, Paul himself had been handling the shotgun in a cement storehouse over which he was watchman. Wendenburg had five witnesses to deny this assertion made by the defense's witness, Ernest Noblett. They had all been with Paul at the time Noblett said he had seen him with a gun and they all denied Noblett's assertion.

Through three automobile men, qualified as experts, the commonwealth's lawyers put in rebuttal evidence supporting the prosecution's original claim that it was not possible that the blood of the murdered woman could have soaked through the bottom of the car to form the great pool on the road. They also smashed at another important feature in Henry Beattie's testimony. He had said that after his wife had been shot down by his side, he had placed her body on the seat beside him and, holding it with his left arm, had driven his machine homeward at a fifty-mile rate with his unaided right hand.

The experts all swore that Beattie had testified to the impossible. No driver could have taken a car over such a road as Middlethian turnpike in the night with only one hand on the wheel.

A BLACK HAND CHIEF HAS COME TO GRIEF

Costabile, the Fox, Taken With the Goods On Him.

New York, Sept. 6.—The Black Hand chief who has hidden in the shadows for years, laughing at the police and levying tribute where he pleased, has at last stumbled into the grip of Carrao of the central office. Tucked under his coat was a dynamite bomb as big as a grape fruit, fused and ready for explosion.

Costabile—the fox, they call him—squirmed hard for liberty. He pleaded with Carrao to let him go, raised his hands and called on God to witness his innocence, and changed his whine to a growl. With his lips close to Carrao's ear he said without bravado, that as surely as he was sent to prison he would kill Carrao and every man who sent him there.

In asking Magistrate O'Connor to hold Costabile, Inspector Hughes withheld evidence that he says he has concerning the fox's career as the leader of the worst band of Black Hand organizations in the city. He called attention merely to that which was concealed under Costabile's coat, the bomb. So the magistrate fixed bail at $10,000 and the fox was led off to a cell in the Tombs.

Cascarets Work While You Sleep

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are Violent—they Act on Bowels as Pepper acts in Nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

EDISON'S TRIP ABROAD HIS FIRST IN 22 YEARS.

The Inventor Says He Goes For a Rest and to Worry.

For the first time in twenty-two years Thomas A. Edison is making a European trip. With him went his son, Charles, and in London Mrs. Edison and their daughter, Miss Madeline, will join them. The family will make an automobile tour of the continent and will pass seven weeks in the jaunt.

"Have you anything new up your sleeve?" he was asked before sailing. "No," he replied. "I have just finished something new. My talking pictures are complete. Two hundred sets of them have been made, and they are wonderful."

Mr. Edison had been working for some time upon a device to make the moving picture machines and the phonograph take each other's hands and furnish a combined entertainment.

"I shall not lecture while abroad," he continued. "I am going for a rest, and if I meet any of the distinguished persons of the other side it will be quite by accident. You know, I want to go away and worry for awhile. You see, over here I have been too busy to worry, and I had to cut my usual Florida trip in the winter for work. Now I am going to worry a little for a change."

"Are you working with the aeroplane any?"

"No, I am not. Thirty years ago I took up the aeroplane, but could not get an engine that would do the work. I did invent an engine. I made one with gun cotton as the explosive instead of gasoline. Since then I have never fooled with the subject."

BY NEWBERRY'S CAR

Manslaughter Charge Against Former Cabinet Officer.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 6.—Former Secretary of the Navy Thomas H.
Newberry of Detroit, while driving his runabout at Narragansett Pier last night, struck and killed Helen Ellis,
the seven-year-old daughter of George W. Ellis of Milford, Mass. The accident occurred in front of the Hotel Mathewson. Mr. Newberry gave himself up to the police and was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Edgar Watts on a charge of manslaughter,
preferred by Chief James D. Casswell
of the Pier police. He pleaded not guilty and was released in $5,000 sur-eity to appear before Judge Lewis at next Monday's session of the Second district court at Wakefield.

QUESTION OF RATES

Representative Stanley Evolves Another Cure For Trusts.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 6.—Representative A. O. Stanley, chairman of the house steel trust investigating committee, has returned home after making investigations in Duluth and Gary, Ind., where corporation plants are located. In discussing the rate situation he said:

"There is no doubt that if the independent manufacturer is placed upon
the same footing by these railroads as
is the steel corporation, the independents can force the trust out of business or make it lower its prices."
Killed by His Own Gun.
Covington, Ky., Sept. 6.—Clem Hell-mann, jr., well-known sportsman, was instantly killed when a double-barreled shotgun which he was handling was accidentally discharged. Hellmann started out with the gun and dogs for a tramp through the fields four or five miles west of Covington. A rabbit was flushed and Hellmann fired one shot at it and then placed the gun between his knees, it is said. In some unaccountable way the gun was discharged and the contents entered his mouth, tearing away the greater part of his face.

Six Hundred Rendered Idle.

on all wares. Six hundred men are out of employment.

SINK BATTLESHIP
SEVEN MILES OFF

Claim Is Made For Uncle Sam's
New Torpedo.

POWERFUL ENGINE INVENTED.

Has 50 Per Cent More Range Than Any Others — Super-Dreadnoughts
More Completely Than Ever at Mercy of Submarines.

The range of torpedoes will be increased from 4,500 yards to 12,000
yards by two new types completed recently by the bureau of ordnance.
Armor piercing torpedoes of this new type, it is claimed, can be fired from battleships, torpedo boats and submarine tubes at a range of nearly seven miles with the same accuracy that projectiles are hurled from large guns.

Some time ago it was learned by the naval authorities that foreign torpedo companies had developed torpedoes
with a range of 8,000 yards and that some of the powers had placed orders for this class of projectiles. It became apparent that something must be done
to meet this increase in the strength of other navies. A board of officers in the ordnance bureau was assigned to the task, and as a result the American navy now leads the world in this important feature of naval warfare.

At the bureau of ordnance it was stated that unless some new defense against torpedoes is developed the most powerful super-Dreadnought would be helpless against the attack of submarine and torpedo boats. Especially does this new type of torpedo increase
the destructiveness of submarines.

By the plan now being prepared submarines are to be equipped with twelve of these new projectiles. It is not thought it will be necessary for submarines to fire at a longer range than 2,000 yards. From that distance it will be impossible for officers on a battleship to locate a submarine, and there has not yet been devised any way to attack these boats.

Ordinance Bureau's Claim.

Officers of the ordnance bureau declare that at a distance of 2,000 yards
a submarine could drive its twelve monster torpedoes under the armor belt of a battleship and sink her without giving the battleship the least opportunity to reply to the attack.

One of the most difficult problems
that the navy now has to solve is to develop an efficient personnel of officers and men to handle the new type of torpedo. Some difficulty has been experienced on battleships, as has been indicated in the reports from the preliminary target practice, in handling the 4,500 yard range torpedoes now in use in the navy, and the importance of this work has been increased by the development of new types of torpedoes.

The new fighting machine is a complex and delicately constructed mechanism. It will require a highly trained crew of officers and men to fire these powerful engines of destruction with any degree of accuracy. It has been demonstrated at the torpedo testing stations that it can be done, but not without a thorough knowledge of the workings and peculiarities of the mechanism.

All the new torpedoes of this powerful type will be built by the navy at the torpedo testing stations. Their construction is a secret which will be jealously guarded by the ordnance bureau.

STORY OF 1804 DOLLAR.

Dr. J. M. Henderson Denies Forty Thousand Were Struck Off.

Dr. J. M. Henderson of Columbus,
O., president of the American Numismatic association, tells what he says
is the true story of the 1804 silver dollar, which $3,600 was recently paid
by W. F. Dunham of Chicago.

"It has been reported erroneously,"
said Dr. Henderson, "that 40,000 were struck off and sent to Morocco to pay American troops and that the vessel carrying them was lost.

"The dies for the 1804 dollars were made in 1803. Then the law was passed reducing the amount of silver
to be put into dollars and the dies were never used. Matthew A. Stickney of Salem, Mass., in 1842 induced the treasury officials to trade him an 1804 dollar from the original die for a very valuable coin he possessed. With this dollar a few more were struck, for we know of twelve in existence today."

LANDS WITH 53 OSTRICHES.

Brought From Central Africa Notwithstanding Exportation Is Forbidden.

Notwithstanding the flats of the governments of England, France and Germany that no ostriches shall be taken out of Africa, William H. Hiles, an ostrich farmer of Bloomsburg, Pa.,
brought fifty-three of the birds to Boston on the steamship Kansas.

Hiles left the United States a year
ago. Going into the interior of Africa
he soon had fifty-four birds gathered for him by the tribesmen, and they were secretly put on board the Kansas
at Jibuti. One ostrich died on the way across the Atlantic.

FINDS A NEW RACE
IN ARCTIC AMERICA.

Discovery Made by Explorer Stefans-
son—European in Features.

That there is a race of men resembling Scandinavians living in Victoria Land, in arctic America, who have never seen other white men and took
the white man who discovered them
for an Eskimo, is the remarkable statement contained in a letter from the explorer and anthropologist Vilhjmar Stefansson, who has been in the arctic region for the last three years
or more on an expedition sent out by the American Museum of Natural History. The explorer states that these far northern Americans have the speech and habits of Eskimos, but are European in features.

In the finding of the new community Mr. Stefansson believes he has introduced among ethnologists a new problem of great scientific interest.
He suggests three possibilities. One is that he has found a new branch of the human family. Another is that these beings may be the descendants of the 3,000 Scandinavians who suddenly and mysteriously disappeared
from Greenland in the fifteenth century and of whom no trace has ever been found.

He also suggests that they may be descendants of a large party of Sir John Franklin's men who also mysteriously disappeared.

Mr. Stefansson left New York city
in April, 1908. With him when he left was Dr. R. M. Anderson of Iowa,
who was the naturalist of the expedition, which left here with the intention of learning something definite in relation to the ethnological puzzles of the land north of Hudson bay.

The expedition has done what it set out to do, Mr. Stefansson writes, and has also found there is no large river
in the region, although one is designated on maps as the river La Ronciere. He has learned that a certain cape is an island and that a certain
island on the present map is a cape.

WORLD'S GREATEST AIRSHIP.

Japan's Will Be Ninety Feet Longer Than England's.

Japan is building the greatest dirigible balloon ever known. Details regarding the aerial structure are said
to be zealously guarded, but nevertheless it is announced that the aerial monster will be 600 feet long, exceeding by ninety feet the length of the British dirigible launched a short time ago at Barrow.

It will be a little more than fifty feet in diameter and will be fitted with six motors, each of 120 horsepower, so that its total driving power will be equivalent to 720 horsepower, or about twice that of the motors on the British airship.

These engines are expected to be capable of driving an airship of its dimensions against a wind of forty miles velocity—that is, a storm wind—
at the rate of thirty miles an hour.
But if there should be no wind it could force its way through the air at a speed of seventy miles an hour.

The air vessel which Japan completed a few months ago was 400 feet long and of the semirigid type. The new one is being constructed on the rigid principle. It will have a lifting power of about forty-two tons—exactly
double that of the British dirigible.
It could take on board at least twenty
tons of benzine for fuel, and any loss
of gas would be compensated for by the consumption of the fuel. By this means it ought to be able to remain in the air a week and be under full control the whole time.

About ten men will form its crew,
though the dirigible's carrying capacity
will be sufficient for thirty more men.
For ammunition and pneumatic cylinder bombs ample room is to be available.

HERMIT DEAD.

Left a Fortune, Which He Sometimes Carried in His Clothes.

James W. Churchill, a famous hermit of Plymouth, Mass., died recently at the home where he had lived the life of a recluse for forty years. He was born in Plymouth eighty-three years ago and during his early life followed the sea. At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted in the Ninety-ninth New York regiment, Company K, and besides serving in the army was for some time on board a man-of-war.

After coming home from the war he retired to the old homestead, where his hermit's life began. With his advancing years came a positive distrust of mankind. The old man died wealthy, although the exact amount
of his fortune cannot be determined.

Across the road from his home is a small pond which contains goldfish,
and the old man has always been a
self constituted guardian of the pool.

Once he was found on the streets
with his pockets stuffed with money
and bills sticking from his belt, from
the tops of his boots and various other parts of his clothing. He always carried a large roll with him, which he guarded with a loaded revolver.

PLANS TO DEAL WITH CHOLERA

R. A. Craig, Veterinarian at Purdue
Experiment Station, Issues
Bulletin On Timely Subject.

SEASON FOR BAD HOG DISEASE

Expert Tells Methods to be Used in Caring For a Deceased Herd.

When an outbreak of hog cholera
occurs on a farm, the herd should be quarantined and all possible precaution taken against the spread of the infection in the neighborhood
says R. A. Craig, veterinarian at the Purdue University Experiment Station in a newspaper bulletin.
The separation of the herd into small bunches of about a dozen animals is sometimes practiced. This is not advisable, as the work of caring for the animals is greatly increased and the infection scattered over a wide area, proportionately increasing the opportunity for infecting
neighboring farms.

If the house and yards are well
arranged and can be cleaned and dis-
infected, it is not advisable to move
the animals, but if the quarters are old and more or less tumbled down,
and the yards littered with corn cobs,
manure piles, straw stacks, etc., it is advisable to provide better quarters.
Such yards should be well drained.
During the warm months of the year, plenty of range and protection
from the sun and rain are unnecessary. A recently mowed meadow or a blue grass pasture, and a low shed
open on all sides and amply large
for the herd to lie under, give the animals a clean range and comfortable
cool quarters. Roomy, dry, well ventilated sleeping quarters and yards
that have good surface drainage are best when the weather is cool and wet.

In most outbreaks it is advisable
to separate the sick from the well hogs. Early in the outbreak and in the sub-acute form this is practical.
A very high ration consisting of a thin slip of shorts or other ground

feed should be fed. Powdered copper and sulphate may be given in the feed and drinking water. For convenience of mixing with the feed,
eight ounces of the powdered drug
may be dissolved in one gallon of warm water and one pint of the solution added to each ten gallons of slop
and water fed. This method of feeding should be used as soon as symptoms of disease are noticed and continued for a time after recovery. The entire herd should be dieted and
made to clean up their feed quickly.
Water and slop should not be left in the trough for the hogs to wallow in
and the troughs should be disinfected
and turned bottom side up as soon as the hogs have finished feeding and drinking.

A disinfectant should be sprayed
or sprinkled about the feed troughs,
floor sleeping quarters, etc., daily.

The care and treatment of the herd requires work and close attention to details on the part of the attendant.
Indifferent, careless treatment is of
no use in this disease.

Our experience with hog cholera
has shown us that the most successful line of treatment consists of good care, a light diet, and the liberal use
of disinfectants that treatment
should be used early in the outbreak
and continued for several weeks;
that the subacute form of the disease responds to this treatment; that it is of little use to attempt treatment
of badly infected herds.

The dead hogs should be burned.
This is not a difficult task if the bodies are placed on top of a pile of wood that burns quickly and makes a hot fire. If the body is disposed of by burning, it should be covered with a few inches of lime.

At the end of the outbreak everything should be cleaned and disinfected. After a few weeks the yards should be plowed. If the herd has been moved from an old to new quarters, it is of course unnecessary
to wait until the end of the outbreak before giving the old quarters a thorough cleaning and disinfecting.

An Alabama congressman who pulled a gun in a crowded street car and shot a negro was never prosecuted, and the incident made of the statesman quite a hero in his own state. Page articles praising Harmon and boosting his boom were sent to all the newspapers in this state that would use them last spring.

It is said that the "rule of the road" as it exists in this country, had its origin centuries ago when armed men, in passing each other, kept to the right in order that they might have free play for their sword arms. That it is not as satisfactory as the English rule of passing to the left is becoming more and more evident.

A movement has been started in France to secure the adoption of the English road rule throughout Europe. A government commission has been appointed for the purpose and with the aid of the constantly growing army of automobiles, who appreciate the superior advantages of the English custom, it hopes to be able to bring the change about. Canada uses the left hand method and some Americans located near the Dominion border have adopted it. With the attainment of closer relations between the United States and Canada, automobile trips back and forth across the St. Lawrence are sure to become more common. That this will have a further effect on road usage on this side of the boundary is certain.

The habits of years are hard to break but it seems sure that the American rule of the road is destined to go. The increased use of automobiles in itself may be sufficient to bring that about. Already railroad trains pass each other to the left and the day is coming when street cars will also, if for no other reason than to overcome the bad results of woman's refusal to use her left hand in alighting from them. The change in the rule can at most be nothing more than a question of time.

Revival at Little Flatrock To Follow That at New Salem

New Salem and the Little Flatrock neighborhood is to participate in a religious awakening as a revival meeting is being held in New Salem and another will be begun in the Little Flatrock Christian church Sunday.

The first of the series of meetings was started in the town hall at New Salem last Sunday, the Rev. M. C. Long, pastor of the Little Flatrock Christian church acting as the evangelist.

Jesse VanCamp of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Van Camp of New Salem, and brother of Charles VanCamp of this city, is the singing evangelist at the meeting. Great interest in the meetings has been aroused in New Salem and the Rev. M. G. Long has been preaching to capacity houses each night, since the beginning. The town hall will not accommodate the crowds. Mrs. Jesse VanCamp, wife of the singing evangelist, is the pianist.

At the close of the New Salem meeting, which will occur Saturday evening, a similar revival will be started in the Little Flatrock Christian church by the Rev. M. G. Long, to continue indefinitely.

The first meeting will be held at the regular hour Sunday morning. The

Mrs. Maude L. Rogers of near Gings gave a surprise for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Doughty, on Tuesday evening. The occasion was Mr. Doughty's birthday. There were sixty invited guests. Music and old-fashioned games furnished the entertainment for the evening. Mrs. Miller and daughter, Gertrude and Mrs. Henry Miller had charge of the refreshments which were served in the dining room at eleven o'clock. A most delightful evening was spent by all.

The Auxiliary to the C. W. B. M. met this afternoon with Mrs. John P. Frazee in North Main street. The society was entertained by the members of the ninth division with Mrs. Will Frazee and Mrs. Omer Pierson as captains. The program was as follows: Devotional, Miss Anna Mullin; "The Porto Rico of Today," Mrs. J. B. Kinsinger; Music, Miss Marie Clark; Address, Miss Grace Jennings of Chicago, a returned missionary from China; music, Miss Marie Clawson. The annual election of officers took place after the program was given.

AMUSEMENTS

The Portola will have the usual change of program tonight. "The Crucial Test" is an Edison film, telling an interesting story of the Spanish-American war. The other picture is a Biograph, "Stubbs' New Servants." It is a comedy and is said to be a very novel film.

The Palace will have the same pictures tonight as last night.

Rushville people should enjoy immensely the serio-comic farce, "The Fortune Hunter" which is playing at the English theater in Indianapolis this week, due to the fact that the story from which the play was written appeared serially in the Daily Republican several months ago and was read by many people. It is a realistic and somewhat out of the ordinary play in that it is rich with humor that makes it thoroughly delightful, which is an uncommon thing for farces laid in the surroundings such as are in "The Fortune Hunter."

The music and drawing books will not be in before early next week. Pupils and parents should preserve this list and take an account of the books needed. In many cases pupils will use the same books as last year and pupils having copies for sale should take their books to school the first day and give the same to the principals of the buildings. If there are calls for such books the principals will see that there is an opportunity to sell them.

It will be of advantage to dealers and to pupils to buy as many books this week as possible, for often there is a shortage of books especially of those which are new. Then again the rush at the stores can be avoided by buying early.

A partial list of high school books will be published Friday. Pupils who are regular in their work and have clear promotion can safely depend upon these lists as published.

All of the schools will begin at eight-thirty on Monday morning.

BOWSER SEES 'EM

Rats? Not a Bit of It; Only Big Cockroaches.

HE SCOLDS WIFE AND COOK.

Man of the House Angry That the Woman Had Been Scared by Rodents. Has Unpleasant Experience in Cellar, but Stands by His Guns.

By M. QUAD.

Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.]

ONE evening two weeks ago Mr. Bowser came home from the office to find Mrs. Bowser seated on the piano and the cook standing up on the sofa. One was armed with the broom and the other with an old curtain pole, and on the face of each was a look that she would sell her life dearly.

"What in thunder does all this mean?" shouted Mr. Bowser as he entered the door of the sitting room. "Rats!" answered Mrs. Bowser.

"What sort of an answer is that? Come down from that piano! By the great John Henry, has my house been turned into an insane asylum?"

"Mr. Bowser, there are rats in the house," explained Mrs. Bowser as she got down. "Cook saw three of them in the kitchen an hour ago."

"And one of 'em snapped at me like a mad wolf," added the pride of the kitchen as she also reached the floor.

"I don't believe a word of it! There isn't a rat within a mile of the house and hasn't been for twenty years. Come right downstairs, both of you. Now, show me a rat. Go right at it and show me a rat!"

"I think they came up out of the cellar," said Mrs. Bowser. "I didn't see one myself, but I heard them pattering across the floor."

Sure There Were No Rats.

Pattering nothing! Cook never even saw a mouse. She might possibly have seen a cockroach strolling about, but I doubt that. Get dinner on the table within ten minutes or there'll be something worse than rats around the house! By George, but what fools women can make of themselves!"

At the dinner table Mrs. Bowser said:

"I am sorry you talked so bluntly to cook. She isn't a girl easily frightened, and I am quite sure she saw at least one rat. She says three. She came running upstairs and said they were after her, and so I got scared."

"Mrs. Bowser, didn't you hear me

MR. BOWSER WAS RATTLED.

"Why wasn't a rat within a mile of this house?" demanded Mr. Bowser as he knocked on the table with the handle of his knife.

"Yes, but—"

"There are no buts about it. What I say about rats goes. Cook saw water bugs or cockroaches. They might even have been grasshoppers that jumped in from the back yard."

"But other houses have rats. Mrs. McLain was telling me!"

"Mrs. McLain and Mr. Bowser are two different persons, madam. If Mrs. McLain has rats in her house she is welcome to them. I have none in mine and never had and never will have, and if I come home and find another circus performance going on somebody will suffer!"

Agrees to Whitewash Cellar.

"I'm sure that cook"—began Mrs. Bowser, when he cut in with:

"That will do. The subject is closed. I have told you what will happen if any more rats are seen around here."

A week passed without another rat being seen. Then two made their appearance, but disappeared before the cook had time to get scared. On the next day there were four rats and on the next day one. Not a word was said to Mr. Bowser until the other evening after dinner. Then Mrs. Bowser carelessly asked:

"Don't you think the cellar ought to be whitewashed again?"

"Might be a good thing," was the reply.

"Would you pay a man $3 to do it?"

"Three dollars! Three dollars! Not by the tomb of Allah! The man that charges $3 for such a little job is a horse thief and a swindler."

"But if it takes him a day and a half?"

"He ought to do it in four hours. I did it in three. I'll go down and take a look at things, and if there is need of another coat I'll put it on tomorrow evening. I believe the pail and the brush are down there."

Screams From the Cellar.

Mrs. Bowser had accomplished a part of the conspiracy she had entered into with the cook. She had got Mr. Bowser to go down cellar of his own accord. He got a match and went down and lighted the gas and went looking around for the whitewash outfit. He was nearly to whistle a few bars of a popular air. He was heard to hum. He was heard moving about, then a long, wild bloodcurdling scream—such a scream as a woman utters when she is thrown over a precipice 6,000 feet high because she will not marry the leading man in the Boston Ideal Comedy company.

A rush and a fall on the cellar stairs—another yell.

Then Mr. Bowser, with face as white as the dead and his eyes rolling.

"Will you tell me what on earth is the matter?" asked Mrs. Bowser as she came forward.

"I—I saw something down there! Some—something ran over my foot!" he gasped.

"Oh, something did, eh? Well, you've been told there are rats about."

"Of course there are rats," added the cook.

Would Not "Own Up."

Mr. Bowser had taken a decided stand on the rat question. He had positively denied that there were rats about. He must now own up or bluff it through. Mr. Bowser is a man who has never "owned up" over three times in his life and was then sorry for it within five minutes. He had got a bad scare, but he got hold of his nerve and turned on Mrs. Bowser to shout:

"Rats! Idiots! Lunatics! What I saw down there was some stray cat. She took me by surprise and rattled me for a moment. Kitty, kitty, come up here. She won't come, but she's down there."

"But if it should be rats?" queried Mrs. Bowser.

"If it should be Satan himself, why don't you ask? You are just like all other women. When you get a fool idea into your head nothing can drive it out. I say it's a cat."

"Then you ought to do down and shoo her up. We can't have a strange cat down cellar."

"I'll have her out in five minutes. That is, we will leave the door open and she will come up and take a skip."

"But if there are rats they will come up."

"Woman, haven't I said there wasn't an infernal rat within four miles of the house?" whooped Mr. Bowser.

"Yes, but—"

Finds Big Cockroaches.

He turned about and went down cellar. It was the only thing he could do. He must hunt the cat or let the rats hunt him. The gas was still burning, and he armed himself with the furnace poker and went scuffling around and calling out "Kitty" and "Shoo there!"

Nothing developed for five minutes. Then four big rats made a dash for him from behind a barrel. He struck at the nearest and fell down and rolled over, and there was another wild yell and a scramble up the stairs. The four rats followed and whisked out of the kitchen into the back yard before either of the women could open her mouth to scream.

"Didn't I tell you there were rats here?" asked Mrs. Bowser.

"You did, but where are they?" was replied. I saw three cockroaches scurrying out, but where were the rats? I told you there were none."

"But why did you yell and rush then?"

"To hump 'em along and give them the scare of their lives, of course. Now, then, let's hear no more of the rat matter. I don't propose to have this house turned into an idiot asylum because four cockroaches happened to drop in on us for a peaceful call!"

Not on Her Side.

A little boy who was very much puzzled over the theory of evolution questioned his mother thus:

"Mamma, am I descended from a monkey?"

"I don't know," the mother replied. "I never knew any of your father's people."—Cotton Seed.

VISCOUNT UCHIDA

Ambassador Recalled to Japan as the New Foreign Minister.

Tokyo, Sept. 5.—Marquis Saionji, the new premier, has submitted the names of his cabinet to the emperor, who at once approved it. Viscount Uchida, ambassador to the United States, will assume the office of foreign minister.

ONE MORE INDIANA POSTOFFICE ROBBED

Yeggs Get In Their Explosive Work at Tilden.

Danville, Ind., Sept. 5.—Safe blowers, who obtained about $150 in stamps from the safe, according to the estimate of J. H. Ferree, postmaster, broke into the postoffice at Tilden, near here.

The back door of the building was forced open by the burglars, who then blew open the vault, inside of which was a small safe on which there lay the stamps. It is thought they were frightened away before they had a chance to open this safe, in which there was a small amount of money.

Four different explosions were heard by families in the neighborhood. Mr. Ferree heard the explosions and went into the yard armed with a gun. He discovered two men, one on each side of the building, but thinking they might be neighbors, hesitated about shooting. One of the men whistled a strange call, which brought a man from the inside. A rapid run was then made by the three men to a cornfield south of the town, where 50 cents' worth of stamps and a banana were found.

Other cities have been notified and an effort is being made to find the men, who are believed to have driven away in a wagon.

REVENGE THE MOTIVE

Only Conclusion to Account For Brutal Murder in Illinois.

Carey, Ill., Sept. 5.—The finding of the body of Frederick Wennerstrom, a Chicago auto liveryman, wrapped in a rubber laprobe and mutilated, in the river near here, disclosed a peculiarly brutal murder, the motive of which is supposed to have been revenge. The dead man, according to his family, had been sent on a mysterious trip to "take a party to Crystal Lake." He was found with two bullet holes in the back of his head.

Activity in pursuing a gang of safe-blowers with the police is declared to have been the motive for the murder. Wennerstrom recently chased a gang of robbers and captured two.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Unsuccessful Suitor Shoots Young Woman and Himself.

New York, Sept. 5.—Miss Catherine Van Wyck, the twenty-year-old daughter of Albert Van Wyck of Brooklyn, was shot and killed at Quogue, L. I., by William A. Childs, Jr., formerly of Englewood, whose family have occupied a cottage at Quogue for several years. Childs then turned the revolver on himself and committed suicide. It is believed Childs was crazed because the girl did not return his love.

There were eyewitnesses to the tragedy, but no one was able to interfere in time to prevent the tragedy. The real motive for the crime is shrouded in mystery.

Two Safeblowers Arrested.

Taylorville, Ill., Sept. 5.—Intercepted while preparing a charge of nitroglycerin to blow the postoffice safe at Edinburg, two safeblowers shot at Wood Stevens and jumped through a plate glass window. The men, who gave their names as Frank Burns and Charles Hagner, were arrested at Sicily.

MINE INDUSTRY IS LANGUISHING

The Fall Rush Is a Month Behind Time.

AN UNACCOUNTABLE DELAY

What is Holding Back the Placing of Orders in the Indiana Fields No One Knows, but Predictions Are Made That When the Rush Comes the Mines Will Be Swamped and There Will Be Suffering in Places.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 5.—It has been the history of the Indiana coal fields for forty years that during the middle of August the rush of orders for coal begins to come in, and every mine is put to work at its fullest capacity. Therefore coal operators of this district and of the bituminous fields of the state are unable to understand the failure of the fall rush of orders.

The rush did not come this season. In fact it has not arrived yet, although almost a month overdue. In the last ten days there has been an improvement in the coal industry, but the rule in this state now is but little better than half time. What is holding back the placing of orders no one seems to know.

The wisest of the coal producers are of the opinion that the business will open with a rush that will swamp all the mines and congest all the railroads, and they predict that an early fall will cause much suffering in the northwest. There is no coal in storage now, and when the orders arrive almost every ounce will have to be mined after the orders come.

LEGAL COMPLICATIONS

Further Delay Promised in Terre Haute's Squabble.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 5.—The injunction suit of City Engineer Donn Roberts, which has prevented Mayor Gerhardt from removing Roberts from office, came up again today before Judge Bridwell in the Sullivan circuit court. Judge Bridwell found the transcript for the change of venue was faulty. Judge Buskirk of Orange county had been called here on a change of venue from Judge Fortune of the Vigo circuit court, but the mayor took a change of venue from the county rather than let Judge Buskirk hear the case. Now it is said the case will be further delayed. The faulty transcript was due, it is said, to the failure of Judge Buskirk to sign the docket. He came back to Terre Haute to correct the error, but did so in vacation time, and on this point Roberts' lawyers will raise a question as to the validity of the transfer of the case from Vigo to Sullivan county.

ACCEPTS HIS FATE

Convicted Evansville Bigamist Withdraws Motion For New Trial.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 5.—Carl Strother, serving an eight-year sentence in the state prison at Michigan City on the charge of bigamy, has notified his attorneys here to dismiss his motion for a new trial. He says he will serve his sentence and not make any further appeal. Strother married Miss Pauline Morgan, a pretty girl of Central City, Ky., in this city several months ago, when he had a wife and two children already living at Ironton, O.

One Lesson Not Sufficient.

Indianapolis, Sept. 5.—The recent firing of a group of public officials at Laporte has not stopped prairie chicken shooting in that vicinity, according to a report from field deputies to George W. Miles, state fish and game commissioner. William Cox and Howard Garner, both of Laporte, have been arrested and each fined $62, including costs.

The Same Old Story.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 5.—Edward Meagor of Chicago was drowned in Flint lake, a pleasure resort, three miles north of this city. Meagor and his brother Richard were together in a small boat, one of the brothers rocked the boat, the craft capsized and Edward sank immediately. Richard was saved by rescuers from the shore.

Veterans Run Down by Auto.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 5.—George Miller and J. W. Hunt, aged civil war veterans, were run over by a heavy touring car driven by Mrs. Nettie Weise of South Bend. The accident occurred in Mishawaka. Because of their advanced ages the injuries to the men are considered serious.

Costly Blaze at Mine.

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 5.—Fire destroyed the tippie and mine building of No. 8 mine, south of Diamond, belonging to J. H. McClelland of this city. The origin of the fire is unknown. Only the engineer was present at the time. The loss amounts to about $5,000.

Two Drown While Bathing.

Mitchell, Ind., Sept. 5.—While bathing in White river, eight miles northwest of Mitchell, Gertrude, seventeen years old, and Grace, eleven years old, daughters of Jackson Menaugh, a foreman at the Stonington mills, were drowned.

FRANK GOTCH

"Iowa Farmer," Champion Wrestler of the World.

USED MACHINE GUNS ON ZAPATA'S FORCES

Mexican Troops Mow Down Outlaw Band.

Mexico City, Sept. 5.—Following the battle with the forces of Emilio Zapata in Morelos in which fifty of his followers are reported killed, it is stated that unless Zapata was killed, as reported during the day, he is to be vigorously prosecuted by the federal government for the crimes he has committed and permitted to be committed by his men in that state. Murder, arson and abuses of the dead and living are among the crimes charged. The federal government has resolved to pay no more attention to his plea that he is disbanding his men, but is going to press the campaign against him. President De La Barra has determined to effect the immediate disarmament of the forces of Zapata, to have every town in the state of Morelos occupied by federal troops, which shall by degrees be replaced by the new rural guard which are being organized by General Villaseca.

The battle at Chinameca was a result of Zapata's direct violation of his promise to Madero to disband his men and go home. The federals used machine guns and mowed down the insurgents.

Mexico City is strongly guarded by police and soldiers, and the rioting which disgraced the capital Sunday has not been repeated. Friends of General Bernardo Reyes are indignant at the conduct of the mob that stoned and robbed him when he was attempting to address a mass meeting.

A CANINE HERO

Intelligent Spaniel Held Drowning Girl Until Help Came.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., Sept. 5.—Miss Lucile E. Berkshire, eighteen years old, had a narrow escape from drowning while boating on the Erlanger lake. A large water spaniel dog that had been diving for rocks in the water, attempted to climb into the canoe with a rock in its mouth and capsized the boat. Miss Berkshire sank, but the faithful dog caught hold of her clothing and kept her afloat until she was rescued by several persons who were riding in canoes on the lake. She was unconscious when taken from the water.

James R. Keene Improving.

London, Sept. 5.—A successful operation was performed upon James R. Keene, the American financier, in a nursing home in this city. It is stated that Mr. Keene's malady is due to stomach trouble. While no details have been given out, it was announced that the distinguished patient was in good form and was resting comfortably. All the symptoms were regarded as encouraging and the patient was on the road to recovery, according to all reports.

HAPPY RESULTS

Have Made Many Rushville Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Rushville citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Rushville by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Jacob Roth, W. First street, R. F. D. No. 4, Rushville, Ind., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been a standard remedy in my family for the past two years and I am firmly convinced that there is no other kidney medicine on the market equal to them. We have taken Doan's Kidney Pills time and time again and they have never failed to give relief from kidney and bladder trouble. I have such great faith in the curative powers of this preparation that I never fail to speak a good word for it when I hear anyone complaining of kidney trouble."

A SERIOUS RUPTURE NOT AT ALL LIKELY

France and Germany Adjusting Their Differences.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—When Monsieur Jules Cambon, the French ambassador, called and presented the compromise proposition agreed to at the French cabinet council last week, the French-German negotiations regarding Morocco were resumed at the foreign office.

While the answer is in the nature of a compromise and is known in a general way to be an offer by France of territorial concessions in return for recognition of her chief supervisory rights in Morocco, it is not expected that it will be accepted. Germany, however, has recently adopted a conciliatory tone, so that there will be little chance of a serious rupture, at least for some time. Indications are for a peaceful settlement.

The resumption of the Franco-German negotiations did not create optimism on the bourse, the tone being generally weak.

Ordinance Will Be Recalled.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 5.—The ordinance providing for the building of a dirt grade by the Kentucky and Indiana Bridge company, and which would necessitate the closing of a number of west-end streets, will be recalled, according to an announcement made by Mayor Head.

HYOMEI FOR CATARRH

World's Greatest Remedy Free From Cocaine, Opium and All Habit Forming Drugs.

Start right now, before the cold weather comes, to kill catarrh germs and get rid of catarrh. It's the best time.

Breathe HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me.) F. B. Johnson & Co. guarantees it. It is made of Australian eucalyptus, thymol and other antiseptics, and besides destroying the germs it soothes and heals the sore, raw membrane and prevents mucus from forming in the air passages.

Breathe it a few times a day. It's an easy and pleasant treatment and results are quick and certain.

HYOMEI is guaranteed for catarrh, asthma and catarrhal deafness, or money back. A complete outfit, including hard rubber inhaler, costs $1.00. Extra bottles if afterwards needed cost but 50 cents.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by All Dealers.

STOP THAT DANDRUFF
before it kills your hair. You know dandruff is a germ disease and it leads slowly and surely to baldness and there is only one way to cure dandruff and that is to kill the germ that causes the trouble.
Greasy salves will never do this. ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP kills the germ and are guaranteed to cure dandruff, itching scalp and all other germ diseases of the skin and scalp.
ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP are the true scientific remedies for these afflictions. To show our faith in ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP we have instructed the druggist selling them to refund your money if you are not satisfied with the results from the very first bottle and the first cake of soap.
We can afford to make this offer because one bottle of Zemo and one cake of soap are sufficient to show their healing qualities and if used according to directions, they will effect a permanent cure.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP SCHEDULED

Plans Complete for Big Swing Around the Circle.

FORTY-EIGHT DAYS ENROUTE

In This Time the President Will Enter Twenty-Four States and Will Visit 115 Cities, Covering in His Journey, a Total Distance of 13,000 Miles, a Considerably Faster Schedule Than That of His 1909 Journey.

Everly, Mass., Sept. 6.—The following is the itinerary for President Taft's twenty-four-state coast trip: He will travel in all 13,000 miles and will visit 115 cities. The trip will be made in forty-eight days. The schedule is considerably faster than that of the long trip of 1909. It is arranged for work throughout. There are but eight days on "land," the Sundays being about the only rests that will be spared Mr. Taft from incessant travel.

DEAD OR ALIVE

Doesn't Make Any Difference How They Bring Zapata In.

Mexico City, Sept. 6.—The campaign against Emilio Zapata and his bandit band in Morelos—the government no longer characterizes them as revolutionists—will be pushed with renewed vigor. Zapata himself was not killed in the fighting around Chinameca, and is in the hills near that place with his men. The government has ordered him taken, dead or alive, and if he is caught his execution is assured unless Madero gets into office meantime and saves his former lieutenant; but Madero does not appear much interested in Zapata's future welfare since the rebel leader broke his promise to have his men disbanded. Still, Madero insists that if the federal troops had acted in good faith, Zapata would have done so.

Governor Deneen Resting Easily.
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 6.—Governor Deneen, who broke his left leg in an effort to avert a collision of his auto with a rig Sunday afternoon, is resting fairly well. The governor has received many messages of sympathy and condolence. He is stoically resigned to the long siege in bed ahead of him. It will be at least six weeks before the executive can stir about, as the break was complete and the mending process will be slow.

MISSOURI PREACHER CREATES SENSATION

'God Knows My Sin' Was His Farewell Message.

Columbia, Mo., Sept. 6.—It became known with the adjournment of the Missouri conference of the Methodist church (south) that the Rev. H. H. Johnson, secretary of the board of church extension, had severed his connection with the conference under unusual circumstances. The Rev. Mr. Johnson, who was in charge of the church at Clarence, Mo., left the meeting suddenly and sent back a letter of resignation in which he said: "God knows my sin."
The whereabouts of Mr. Johnson are unknown. Members of the conference decline to discuss the case, which was considered in executive session. The minister tendered his resignation by letter from the board, from the conference and from the ministry. He ended his message with the sentence in regard to his mysterious sin. Dr. Johnson built a fine church at Clarence and was a popular preacher. His family is still there.
From Mexico, Mo., it was learned that Dr. Johnson wrote a letter to his presiding elder, in which he stated that he had "dishonored the ministry" and that he would withdraw from it. Johnson was very popular and was considered a power in all kinds of church work. No one will express an opinion as to the nature of the mysterious sin.

CREATED SENSATION

Two Young Men Prominent in Paducah Society Arrested.

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 6.—The arrest of Herbert Stewart and Samuel Winstead, prominent youths, on the charge of robbing the jewelry store of W. N. Warren, has created a sensation.
When searched at the police station about 100 watches were recovered from Winstead, who had them concealed in his pockets and inside of his top shirt. Stewart was caught at a resort, and later several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry was found there and identified by Warren.
Stewart is the only son of Dr. P. H. Stewart, member of the city board of health. Winstead is the only son of Samuel Winstead, sr., druggist and member of the school board.

DEADLY QUARREL OVER LINE FENCE

Dearborn County Farmer Kills His Neighbor.

AGED MAN GAVE WAY TO RAGE

When He Found His Neighbor Adjusting a Line Fence Between Their Farms, Jacob C. Risch, Aged Sixty-Two, Precured a Shotgun and Killed John B. Burge—After Fierce Struggle Risch Was Taken by Sheriff.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., Sept. 6.—Jacob C. Risch, sixty-one years old, shot and fatally injured John B. Burge, forty-four years old, in Jackson township. Burge was employed as a caretaker on the farm of Jacob H. Stock, whose land joins that of Risch, and was building a wire fence along the dividing line of the two farms.

Burge fastened the wires to a tree that was nearly on the line and Risch ordered him to remove the wires. He refused to do so and a quarrel followed. Risch went to his home, got a shotgun and, going to where Burge was working, emptied both loads of shot at Burge. The shot took effect in his back, shoulders and head and he died a few hours later.
Risch was arrested by Sheriff Slater after a fierce struggle at his home, and placed in irons. He was brought to this city in an automobile and placed in the county jail, charged with murder in the first degree.

POPULATION HUB

Indiana University Astronomers Have Finally Located It.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 6.—After having been fixed ten years on the farm of Henry Marr, six miles southeast of Columbus, the center of population recently took up a claim in a thicket nine miles east of Bloomington. Apparently it cared not for the forest primeval and now abides in the grounds of the big plant of the Showers Brothers company, four blocks northwest of the Monroe county courthouse.
The newly established center has just been fixed by Professor Wilbur A. Cogshall, head of the department of astronomy of Indiana university, and his assistant, Professor D. A. Drew. When, about a month ago, these scientists fixed the center of population on a farm nine miles east of Bloomington it was done through figures made by the census bureau at Washington. But it was found, after Professors Cogshall and Drew had made their computations, that two of the census compilers at Washington had made mistakes and when their figures were righted it was shown that the pivot of the population of the United States was nine miles farther to the westward. And that moved the pivot into the grounds of the Showers Brothers company, for forty years manufacturers of furniture in Bloomington.

Stranded Actor's Mishap.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 6.—In an effort to get back to Chicago after he had become stranded in this city, James Innes, an actor, slipped and fell under a moving freight train on the Lake Shore road. The wheels passed over Innes' right foot and he was moved to a hospital for an operation. It will be necessary to amputate his foot.

Wounds Not Fatal.

Indianapolis, Sept. 6.—John J. Giesen, charged with shooting himself and Jennie Barlow last week, has recovered sufficiently to be moved to his home from the city hospital. It now appears that both Giesen and the woman will recover from wounds which it was believed at first would result fatally for both.

He Was Too Officious.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 6.—Imitating the act of a Chicago man of whom he had read, Albert Kellems, twenty-three years old, drew a pistol to quell an incipient panic in a picture theater when a film burned. He stopped a number of people, but City Judge Gould decided he took too much authority and fined him $1.

Blackmailers Make Demands.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 6.—Following the destruction of a barn and eight horses at James Donnelly's summer resort by an incendiary fire, Hans Anderson discovered a Black Hand letter pinned to a door, demanding that $800 be placed on a stump, or the alternative of having the farm buildings burned.

Father's Serious Mistake.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 6.—Peter Leingruber, a furniture worker, and his three small children were in a critical condition for several hours as the result of eating toadstools, which the father had gathered in a yard near his house, thinking they were mushrooms.

Fatally Hurt by Auto.

Hammond, Ind., Sept. 6.—Arthur Pierce, aged eleven, was run over by an auto owned by Ralph Wood of Deep River and fatally hurt. His face was crushed and he received internal injuries. No arrests were made.

REMONSTRANCE NOT HEARD

Postponed Until Next Regular Meeting of City Council.

The city council did not take up the remonstrance against the paving of Perkins street at their regular meeting last night. The remonstrance was scheduled for a hearing but as there was not a quorum present it was postponed until the next regular meeting. Mayor Black and City Clerk Cauley were on the job and waited and waited for the councilmen to come. About 9:30 o'clock O. C. Norris put in an appearance, thus making a quorum, but as it was getting late nothing of importance was transacted. The usual claims were allowed before adjournment.

WILL DECIDE ABOUT TRAIN

Merchants to Hold Regular Meeting Thursday Night.

The Retail Merchants Association will hold their regular meeting tomorrow night in the assembly room of the court house. At the meeting it will be definitely decided whether or not the merchants will support the proposed special train to Greensburg next Thursday night. The promoters of the excursion have been meeting with considerable success in selling tickets, but have stopped the sale to see what disposition the merchants will make. Other business of importance will come before the meeting and a large crowd is urged to be present.

COUNTY COUNCIL ADJOURNS TODAY

Postpones Action on Appropriation For County's Expenses For Year Until Tomorrow.

BUDGETS READ THE FIRST TIME

The county council, which began its annual session yesterday morning adjourned at noon today until tomorrow. Nothing has been accomplished by the council with the exception of the election of a member to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Emmett Kennedy. It is a part of the routine of the council's duties to read the list of appropriations requested by the various county officials twice. At the first day's session the list was read and nothing of importance was done. Tomorrow they will make the second reading, and it is then that the appropriations will be made. If there is any changes or reductions to be made that will be done then. The council adjourned this morning because there was not a quorum present. It is also a part of the duty of the council to levy the tax for the court house bonds.

LANDS HOLD REUNION.

The Land families held their annual reunion at the fair ground Sunday and had an unusually delightful time. Relatives attended from Indianapolis, Zionsville, St. Paul, Sandusky and these, together with the Rush county residents made a total of 85, the largest crowd that has ever been present. A sumptuous dinner was spread at noon and this was one of the most enjoyable events of the day. John S. Land of Greenfield was elected president and Miss Lennie Land, secretary. The next meeting will be held the first Sunday in September, 1912.

PASSED COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

(Shelbyville Republican.)
Many of the local merchants are complaining of counterfeit quarters which were quite widely circulated here fair week. The coin has a very shiny appearance, resembling tin. The date on the coins is 1900. By close observation they can be very easily detected, as the wording is quite indistinct.

LOCAL NEWS

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. George Clark of Brookside was buried this morning in the Pleasant Run cemetery.

The apparatus to test the flow of the new well dug by the city at the foot of East First street did not arrive and the test was not made today as it was expected it would be.

Modern Woodmen of this city have returned from Anderson, where they attended the annual Log Rolling on Monday. The local delegation was diminished due to the fact that a special train could not be procured.

Rev. O. F. Lydy has been returned to the pastorate of the United Brethren church near Gwynneville for another year. The assignments were made at the annual conference of the church, which has just closed at the Indiana Central University.

Excavation work was started this morning on the lot in East Second street between the Daily Republican building and the Green office building where a modern two story building will be erected by B. F. Miller and Owen L. Carr. It will be occupied by the Rushville Vulcanizing Company.

At the close of the annual convention of the Rural Mail Carriers Association in Greensburg on Monday evening it was decided to hold the next annual convention in Shelbyville at the same time. The local carriers made no effort to bring the meeting to this city.

On the Cambridge City branch, reaching Columbus from the first named city, the road has been extended to Richmond, the expense amounting to a million dollars or more. Now comes the information that within a few months, a year at the farthest, there will be installed on this branch an interurban passenger service of motor cars. This service in the beginning will be an hourly car out of Columbus and Richmond.

In addition to the large number of villages along the route are the good cities and towns of Columbus, Shelbyville, Manilla, Rushville, Cambridge City and Richmond, perhaps the richest route in population in middle-southern Indiana, and all that the Pennsylvania management has to do now to place this splendid line in operation is to put on the cars.

For a number of years not only the Pennsylvania people, but the managers of many other railroads have been experimenting with these motor cars. Not long since one of these cars made the trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, the schedule being that of the fast transcontinental trains, it being easily maintained. In many of the eastern States these cars are now being used and they are also found throughout the west. The company that is proposing to build a belt line around Indianapolis, touching Shelbyville and other county seats, will use these cars.

The conversion of the local Pennsylvania line into an interurban will be of great benefit to Shelbyville and every encouragement should be extended in that direction.

GETS QUICK ACTION.

Tenia Gregg filed a claim suit against B. F. Miller as administrator of the estate of Hannah C. Brown, deceased in the circuit court this morning and shortly afterwards the court returned a finding for the plaintiff in the sum of $675. Yesterday on the motion of the prosecuting attorney, Judge Blair dismissed the cases against Oliver B. Stark, a former Milroy druggist, indicted by the grand jury in February, 1910. An indictment charging Harry Pea with shooting at Charles Bell, returned in September, 1910, was nolleed also.

Gas Notice.

Gas will be turned off from the mains of the People's Natural Gas Company on Friday, September 8th, from 12 noon to 3 o'clock p.m. for the purpose of making repairs.
